

Little Shouts

What makes a poem?
Where are you in this moment?
Let us just throw
the present sounds to paper.

The force by hand across this table
rings and sings.
How do we go from here and there?